“He who asks a question might look like a fool for a minute; he who does not might be one forever”

Jean-Paul Sartre

A man and a woman are dancing joyfully on a rooftop at sunset. The woman is wearing a bright yellow dress and has her arms raised. The man is wearing a light blue shirt and a dark tie, also with his arms raised. The background shows a cityscape with lights and mountains under a colorful sky.

AGILE MARKETING...

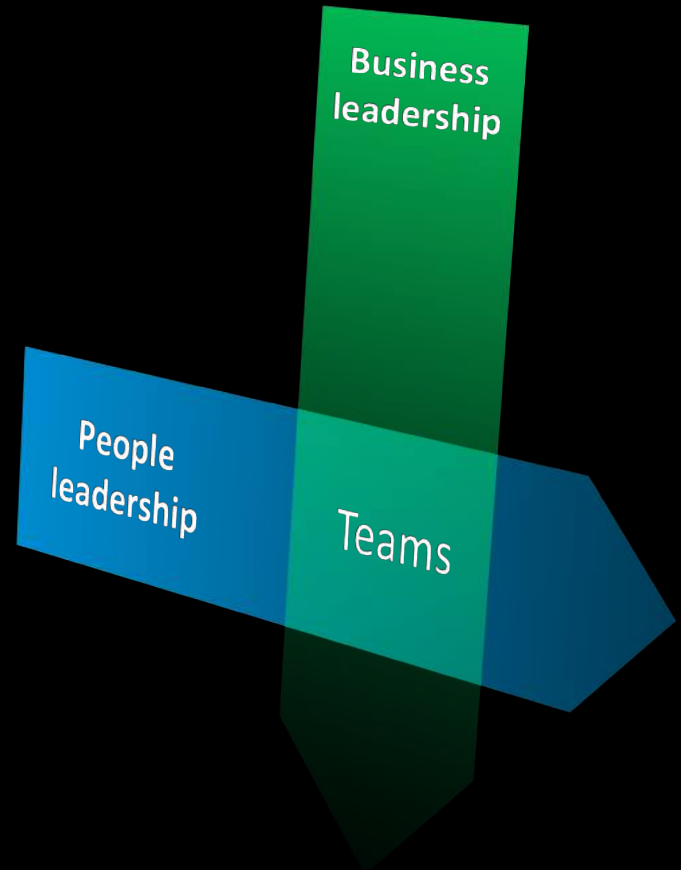

”SPOTIFY MODEL”

A large scale multi-team agile framework

MATRIX DRIVE of BUSINESS & PEOPLE

- Each responsibility is driven with full focus and independently of each other
- Employees belong to centers of excellence – called chapters but their daily work is carried out in a scrum teams (“Squads”)
- The chapter setup help to develop competences and be in the forefront in each competence area

THE TRIBE

Scrum teams for day-to-day work

- Work on a specific customer journey or support task
- Priorities set every quarter (Supersprint) and 3 weeks (Sprint)

Product Owner role

- Business lead for scrum team
- Prioritizes team activities
- Manage backlog

Up to 150 people

Chapter

(competence groups)

- Groups of functional competences that exchange and share best practices, standardization

Chapter lead role

- Additional role for a member of a competence group
- Responsible for people development and chapter competence development

“Creativity is not a talent.
It is a way of operating.”

John Cleese

CREATIVITY MATTERS

(but sustainable creativity is a way of operating - it requires a structure & system)

The secret sauce to Speed, Creativity & Collaboration
(and a customer centric culture)

CULTURE EATS STRATEGY FOR BREAKFAST

So why do we spend so much time on strategy, but so little on culture?

PRINCIPLES

CULTURE

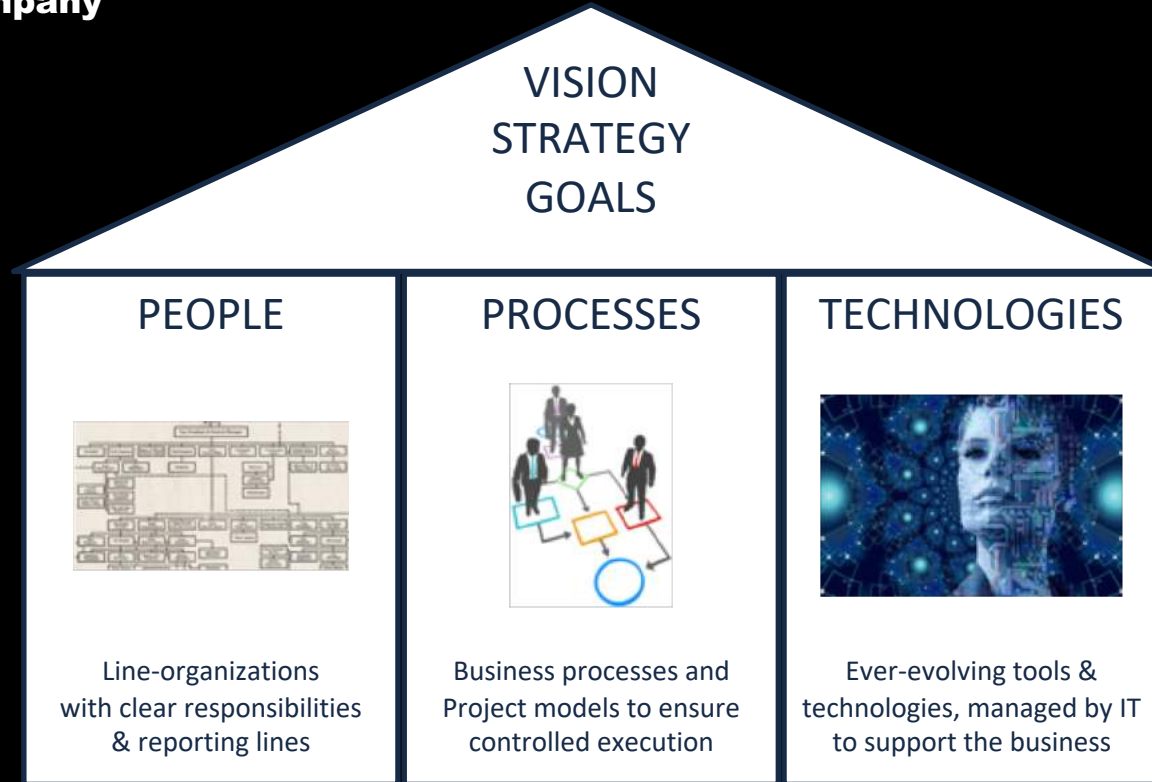

CEREMONIES

COLLABORATE
COMMUNICATE PRIORITIZE DEVELOP

METHODS

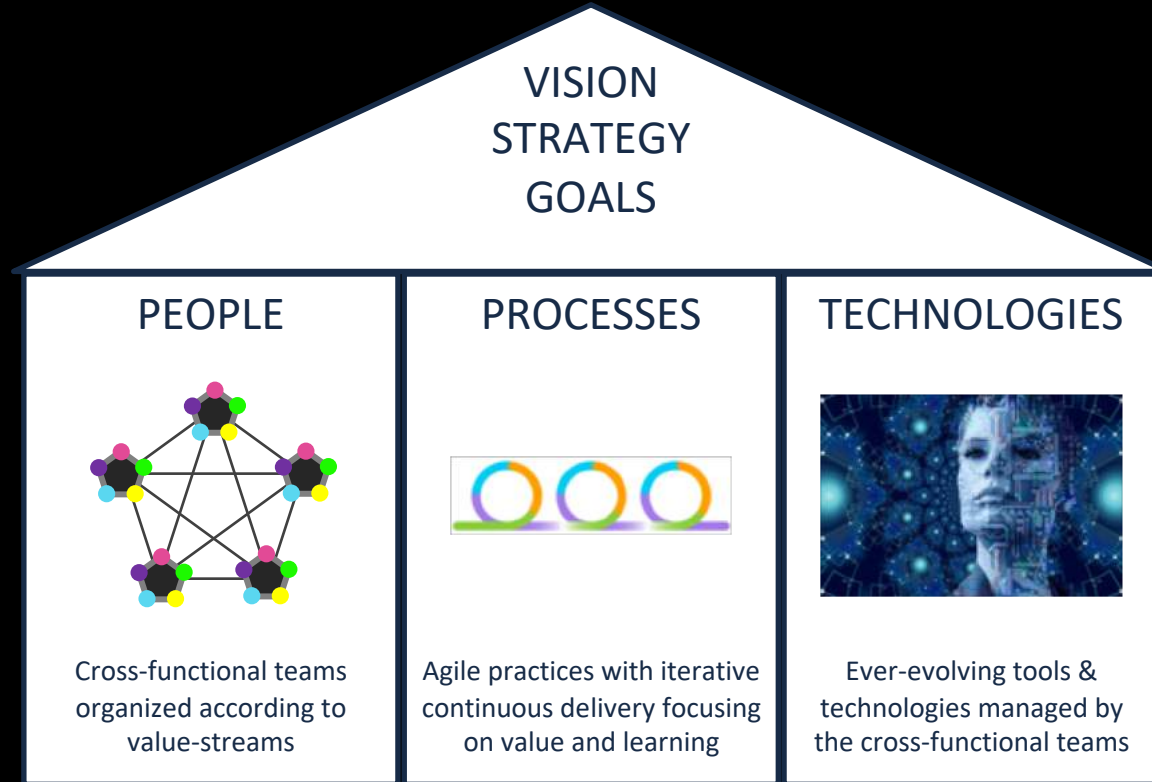

VALUES

Traditional company

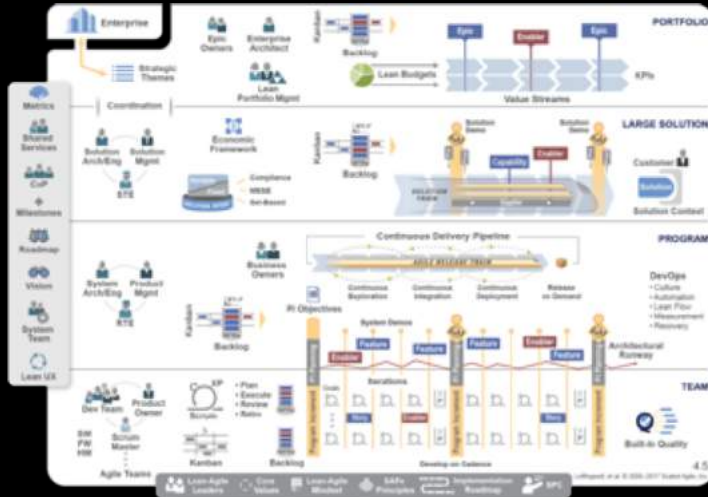

Drives a culture that focuses on controlled execution according to plan
(Change & innovation is driven from the top)

Agile company

Drives a culture that focus on purpose, customer value, experimentation & learning
(Change and innovation is driven everywhere)

Agile operating models

SAFe

(Scaled Agile Framework)

LeSS

(Large scale scrum)

("Spotify model", Holacracy, Responsive, and many of more....)

“But Agile is only for Software development and IT”

BUURTZORG

- Most satisfied customers
- Lowest prices
- Awarded "Best place to work" 5 years in a row (all industries)
- 10.000 employees, no bosses, no hierarchies ("Teal organization")
- Autonomous teams of 10-12 nurses per team
- 50 people in back-office + 20 agile coaches (<1% overhead)
- No strategies – Just clear Purpose & clear goals

“But Agile is only for new companies & start-ups – we’re an old company”

By taking people out of their functional silos and putting them in self-managed and customer-focused multidisciplinary teams, the agile approach is not only accelerating profitable growth but also helping to create a new generation of leaders.

AGILE LEADERSHIP

It doesn't make sense to hire smart people and then tell them what to do; we hire smart people so they can tell us what to do

Do Agile
organizations need managers?

No.

But they do need Leadership.

Servant Leadership.

AGILE LEADERSHIP

1. Continuously inspire around Purpose & Why
2. Bring Clarity to the Purpose, Vision, Strategic Direction & Overall Goals
3. Be Present and Actively Collect Feedback in order to Nurture the Culture & the System
4. Provide an environment where it is safe to fail
5. Provide all the information necessary to make appropriate decisions
6. Uphold decisions made by the teams
7. Help knock down impediments escalated from the teams
8. Be active in Mentoring and Coaching
9. Serve-to-lead mindset

Agile leaders

WHAT

Point out the direction
Provide the means
Remove impediments

Agile teams

HOW

Iterative deliveries
Respond to feedback

TYPICAL AGILE LEADERSHIP ANTI-PATTERNS

Micro-management

Trust
Empowerment
Autonomy

...

Absenteeism

Engagement
Commitment
Purpose

(A manager can be seen as absent, even if they are physically in the office, if they do not engage with their teams)

In Agile, control is enhanced by letting go of control.

Agile leaders act more like gardeners than commanders.
