Breathing face protection

New name and new looks! The rest is pretty much the same.

We have changed the name of our company to Tiki Safety AB. Facecover (as the name was before) was misleading and a bit awkward. Our product is named Tiki so to make things easier for us, our clients and our friends the company name is from now on Tiki Safety. Or just say Tiki in daily speech. The company itself is the same as before with the same VAT number and everything else, SE556868333701.

While we were at it we changed our graphic profile as well. New logo, new colours and new pictures make our communication visually clearer. It will be easier to recognize us and we now have a look that is as modern as our products – which by the way are the same. Hope you like our new name and look as much as we do!

This means some changes in e-mail and web-addresses. The old ones will work for a while more, but please start using the new ones ASAP.
